COUNCIL AGAIN BORROWS MONEY

Coffers of City Short $1048 and
Note For $1260 Issued to Meet Expenses.

ONE MORE REGULAR SESSION

Three Bond Ordinances For Recent
Improvements Passed—Meeting
Last Night Rather Tame.

The present city council has but one more regular session, after the one held last night. Business before the council has been devoid of any special features for some time and judging from the meeting last night the council, apparently, is willing for the end to come.

The civil engineers report of the preliminary assessment roll of the South Jackson street improvement was read to the council. The report was adopted and December 16 or the next regular meeting of the council was set as the time to hear remonstrators against paying the sum as charged to the property owners. City treasurer James Foster reported to the council that he had been unable to collect from Charles Sweet for repairs, one made by the city when he moved the old M. E. parsonage north on Main street to the Stewart and Tompkins addition. Foster stated that he had used every means to collect the bill which is between $18 and $20 but that Sweet would not pay. His bondsman was Joe Lakin and the city may go back on Lakin for the money. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

The mayor and clerk were instructed to pay the Peoples National bank $1840 due them on sewer coupons. The treasurer reported that the city was short $1048.03 in the water and light fund and $208.36 in the general fund. In order to pay the bills it was again necessary to borrow money. The mayor and clerk were instructed to execute a note for $1260 in order to meet the current expenses.

Councilman Moore reported to the council that the Big Four and the L. E. & W. railways had not as yet placed a crossing at Tenth street. The clerk will notify both railways to construct crossings at once.

A petition for a sidewalk on the west side of Oliver street from Ninth to Eleventh streets was referred to the streets and alley committee. The clerk reported that Mrs. Isaac Ford refused to accept the five dollars offered her for the use of her house on election day. The council raised the amount to $10, the price Mrs. Ford claimed she always received.

Bond ordinances calling for $409.80 for the improvement of Perkins street; $185.50 for the improvement of First street and $510 for the improvement of West Tenth street were passed.

SPRING MUST BE HERE.

The coal man should worry, indeed he should when violets and dandelions are springing up around the back door. The advance agents of spring are showing their heads at unexpected places because of the seasonable temperatures that have prevailed most of the time for more than a month. Large grass plots are green as they are on a June day when they should be covered with snow. Some farmers have turned their stock out to green pasture.

LARGE CROWD AT REVIVAL

Interest Increases in Services at the First Baptist Church.

The largest crowd of the week heard the Rev. S. G. Huntington at the First Baptist church last night and interest in the revival services being conducted at this church continues to increase. Last night the Rev. Mr. Huntington delivered one of his best sermons and the audience was more than pleased. The subject last night was "Shall we Know Each Other in Heaven." Tonight he will preach on the topic "A Square Deal." Thursday night by special request he will preach on the subject, "The Unpardonable Sin."

ALIMONY DEMANDED IN DIVORCE SUIT

Mrs. Minnie Beaver Alleges Cruel and Inhuman Treatment and Failure to Provide.

ALSO CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

Mrs. Minnie M. Beaver, through her attorneys Howard E. Barrett, filed suit late yesterday afternoon for divorce from Lewis T. Beaver and besides asking the custody of her four children Mrs. Beaver demands $1000 alimony. The complaint alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and states that he cursed, abused and called her vile names in the presence of their children. An affidavit asking for a restraining order was filed along with the complaint and this was granted by Judge Megée.

The complaint states that they were married February 27, 1894, and separated Nov. 25, 1913. Mrs. Beaver also alleges that he failed to provide and that she was compelled to work in the fields. The complaint states that he notified the merchants where she traded that he would not be responsible for debts contracted by her. Mrs. Beaver claims that he has property worth $2000 and asks half of this, fifteen dollars a week for the support of the children and one hundred dollars attorney's fee. She alleges that he is not a fit person to have the care of the children. The four children are Leona, Neta, Maurel and Eva.

LONG ILLNESS IS FATAL

Riley Kennedy Dies at His Home
Near New Salem.

Riley Kennedy, 50 years old, died this afternoon shortly, before one o'clock at his home east of New Salem. Mr. Kennedy had been ill for a long time suffering from tuberculosis and death was expected. He was well known in the southern part of the county. He is survived by his widow and three children, Mrs. Walter Snoddy, Sidney Kennedy and Jerry Kennedy. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

CASE DISMISSED.

Newcastle Star: In circuit court yesterday the charge of forgery against Harry Hall of Cambridge City, was nollied. Hall is the man who cashed a check at the Straughn bank, and the same was not cashed by the Cambridge City bank on which it was drawn, for want of funds. It was proven that the check was not given with any fraudulent intent.

LEAGUE HAS ONLY ONE AMBITION

Good Fellows Organized to Spread Christmas Cheer and That's
Some Purpose.

PART AND PARCEL OF SCHEME

They Are Spoke in the Wheel That Turns Over Reams of Joy-Carriers to the Tots.

It's easy to become a Good Fellow. There is not one cent for initiation. There are no blackballs in this league. Everyone is free and unincumbered. Each member shall spread all the Christmas cheer he can. That's the sole purpose and ambition of the league.

Understand, too, that gender is foreign to this bunch of Good Fellows. They are not half so strict as Uncle Sam. The feminine part of the population contains just as many Good Fellows as the masculine, and results will prove this.

There's not a Good Fellow shown up yet, but there are plenty of them in Rushville, because it has been demonstrated in years before when the Santa Claus fund was made possible by innumerable Good Fellows.

But this year the Good Fellows are going to be in close touch with the Christmas cheer. They are going to be imbued with it. They are going to see the happy smiles and the fast heart beats that they cause. They are going to be part and parcel of the league, the pitcher, catcher, infield and outfield. It shall fall to the lot of the Good Fellows to be on the ground floor when the grand spreading of Christmas cheer takes place.

There'll be no absent treatment this year. Of course, it's noble to give any sum of money, no matter how small or how large, to the cause that brings happiness to a forlorn little heart Christmas morning when a gray, ill-omened dawn opens on the anniversary of Christ's birth, without prospect of joy, but it's far more satisfactory to feel that you had a very important part in the scheme, that you were not a disinterested giver, but a real live spoke in the wheel that turns over reams of joy-carriers to the tots.

As announced yesterday, the Santa Claus fund will cease to exist, because it has been crowded out by the Good Fellows. They are center on the stage and they have to deliver the goods in more ways than one. The prime purpose of the Good Fellows league is to get the givers into the spirit of Christmas giving so that they can get what they deserve of self satisfaction in making some one happy.

Of course, if there chances to be a busy emerchant who feels that he can not spare the time to attend to the purchases for the folks he's going to make happy, there's his wife or his daughter who would be only too glad to superintend such a glad-some task. It will bring more good cheer to them than anything they ever tried.

The list of worthy children who will have nothing but gloom Christmas day, unless the Good Fellows enlist in large numbers, is being prepared by Mrs. A. L. Stewart, Mrs. T. W. Belker, Mrs. Owen Kincaid and other charity workers, who are acquainted with local conditions and who have performed this task in past years for the Santa Claus fund. They will investigate the cases and be sure that a Good Fellow is the correct receipt for the ailment.

The Good Fellows should be mustering in now. They have only to

ALL CHURCHES TO BE REPRESENTED

Reports Received by the Rev. A. W.
Jamieson Indicate Large Crowd
Will Attend Conference.

TO BE HELD HERE TOMORROW

Much Interest Attaches to the Two
Addresses by Dr. J. S. Lyons
Louisville, Kentucky.

Reports received here today by the Rev. A. W. Jamieson, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, are in effect that all of the congregations in this Presbytery will send delegations to the efficiency conference which will be held at the local U. P. church tomorrow all day.

Chief interest attaches to the Rev. J. S. Lyons, D. D., of Louisville, Kentucky, who will speak twice. The address which he will make at the afternoon session at two o'clock on the subject "Organized Laymen's Work in Evangelistic Lines" is expected to attract a large crowd of Rushville people. The Rev. Mr. Jamieson has emphasized the address very much and has recommended it to all the people of Rushville.

The Rev. Mr. Lyons is one of the gifted ministers of the United Presbyterian church, South, and his coming here is looked forward to with great anticipation by the ministers and laymen of all of the churches in the Presbytery. He will speak in the evening at eight o'clock on the subject, "Presbyterianism at Its Best." At this time it is thought that he will discuss the probable union of the northern and southern branches of the church.

The conference will open in the morning at ten o'clock, with the Rev. Paul Stuart of Milroy presiding. "The Service Most Worth While—Soul Winning" will be the subject of a talk by the Rev. George L. Brown of Indianapolis.

This will be followed by an address on the topic, "Prayer, Essential to Efficient Service," by the Rev. Frederick Elliott of the Spring Hill church. The morning session will be closed with a roll call of the congregations of the Presbytery on payment of mission pledges and a discussion of every member canvass, conducted by the Rev. E. F. Kimmelshue of Xenia, Ohio, superintendent of this Synod.

The afternoon session will open at one-thirty o'clock, with the Rev. J. P. Cowan, D. D., of Indianapolis presiding. The devotional will be led by E. R. Atkins. At two o'clock Dr. Lyons will speak and at two-thirty the subject "The Battlements of the Home" will be discussed by the Rev. J. A. Kennedy, D. D. of College Corner, Ohio.

At three o'clock the Rev. J. H. Hanna, Jr., was to speak on "The Bridge Between the Sabbath School and the Church," but he will be unable to be present the Rev. C. M. Yocum, pastor of the Main Street Christian church, will speak on "Sabbath School Work" instead.

The afternoon session will close with a discussion of workable methods divided into the following topics: The preacher, the teacher, lesson preparation, the graded lessons and the combined service. This part of the program will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Kimmelshue.

The evening session will be devoted exclusively to the address by Dr. Lyons and the Rev. Mr. Jamieson will preside. A general invitation to the public to attend all of the services is extended.

The Odd Fellows will have work in the first degree tonight.

DEATH COMES TO ROY RUFF

Dies at Home Near Glenwood From Bronchitis.

Rob Roy Ruff, 35 years old, died last night at eight-thirty o'clock at his home one mile east of Glenwood after an illness from bronchitis. Mr. Ruff had been in ill health for some time but was taken seriously ill only a few weeks ago. He was well known in this city and in the eastern part of the county. Mr. Ruff is survived by his widow and an adopted son. The funeral will be conducted Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at the Glenwood Methodist church and burial will take place in the Glenwood cemetery.

HAVE MONEY LEFT AFTER CAMPAIGN

Statement Shows That Democrats
Have Balance of $35 in Treasury—Collected $118.

ALL EXPENSE ACCOUNTS FILED

The time limit for candidates in the recent election to file statements of their expenses expires tomorrow, but a majority of the candidates here have complied with the law. There may be one or two candidates who have not filed their expense accounts but in the main the law has been complied with, even to the treasurer of the three parties. Gurney Cohee treasurer of the Democratic central committee has one of the most interesting statements of the entire list in the clerk's office. The statement of Allan H. Blackledge, treasurer of the Republican party shows that the party did not receive any money or expend any. The Democratic party spent $83 to be defeated. The treasurer of the Democratic party had a total of $118 given to him from all sources. Most of the candidates came across with ten dollars and George Hall contributed $20 to the campaign fund. The Democrats have a balance on hand of thirty-five dollars.

JACK CRUSH WORKS FOR GREENSBURG

Looks Like he Ought to be Good on Those Crushed Stone Streets
—He Got Soused.

"WORKING WAY OUT" OF JAIL

For the first time since the edict of the Mayor that all jail men must assist the city by working on the streets, and at the same time help pay for their board at the rather popular hotel, "DeMoss," five men, each serving fifteen days for being publicly intoxicated, were pressed in to street work Friday, says the Greensburg News. Their captain or boss was Street Commissioner George Bussell. Of the five there apparently was but one good worker, and that was Jack Crush. Jack worked the hoe on the north side of the square at piling mud with all the enthusiasm and energy that he lifts a frothy schooner to his oftentimes unshaven lips. He is a model and efficient workman and will be retained despite civic strifes, discord and election eruptions, if, after serving this sentence, he again seeks the bubble fluid.

$100 IN PRIZES IS GIVEN AWAY

Corn Shows Given Today by Rushville National Bank and A. B.
Norris Attract Big Class.

CONTESTANTS ENTERTAINED

C. A. Brown of Franklin, the Judge
Scores an Ear For Benefit of Farmers at Luncheon.

The corn show held at the Rushville National bank today and given by the bank and A. B. Norris of Carthage was a very decided success. There were forty-two contestants in the two events. The prizes were awarded by C. A. Brown of Franklin, Indiana.

At the luncheon given at the Seaman House at noon by Mr. Norris to the contestants in his show, the judge gave a brief talk, scored an ear of corn and said in closing: "This was a very creditable show and I should advise you to keep it up."

Prizes in the bank contest were awarded as follows: first, Theodore Miller, Rushville, R. R. 6; second, A. J. Reddick, Rushville, R. R. 6; third, W. O. Swain, Posey township.

The prizes in Mr. Norris' contest, one necessity for entrance being that the fertilizer he sells should be used in growing the corn, were as follows: first, Argus Wagner, Manilla; second, E. G. Jones, living north of Rushville; third Lawrence M. Root, living south of Rushville.

The prizes in each event were twenty-five dollars for the first prize, fifteen dollars for the second prize and ten dollars for the third prize.

There were thirty-seven people served at the luncheon. Several friends of Mr. Norris' and officials of the Rushville bank being included. Between the first and second course Will M. Sparks spoke for a few moments.

He said that Mr. Norris had asked him to say a few words concerning agricultural life in this community. He said that in all of his relations with the farmers of Rush county, he had found them to be the very highest type of men.

"I have observed the farmers in counties surrounding Rush county,"

The Lights of Brightest Gold

This is the season when gold, silver, diamonds, and other precious stones come into their own.

It is a splendid season for buyers to study the advertising in live daily newspapers like
The Daily Republican and to use it for a guide.

You wait to be sure when you buy jewelry—for you are depending largely on the integrity of the dealer.

It is a wise rule to patronize the jeweler who advertises, for he is putting himself and his claims publicly on record.

He is stamping himself with a guarantee, just as his solid silver ware is stamped sterling.

He can not go back on his printed promise—it would be commercial suicide.

Study your newspaper care-

VILLA ON WAY TO CHIHUAHUA CITY

People Invite Rebel Leader to Come In.

A TRIUMPHAL RETURN HOME

Fourteen Years Ago General Villa Was Forced to Flee From Chihuahua Upon Killing an Army Officer For Insulting His Sister, and Has Never Been Inside the City Since—Returns at Head of Victorious Army.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 3.—Five million pesos, or more than $2,000,000 gold, the property of General Luis Terrazas, aged Chihuahua multi-millionaire, is being carried overland from the city of Chihuahua to the American border by the federal army of 1,500 men under General Salvadore Mercado, who evacuated the state capital Sunday and struck out for the border at Villa Ojinaja, according to word received by General Pancho Villa at Juarez. The aged general and many relatives who have been virtual prisoners in the capital for six months, are with the federals, it is reported.

With the federals out of the capital, the people of Chihuahua sent a messenger to Juarez to invite Villa to come in and invest the town with his rebel army. Villa loaded his artillery and cavalry on trains and declared that he would leave at once for Chihuahua. By tonight or tomorrow morning he should be established in the governor's palace at Chihuahua City as the new provisional governor general of the state.

Fourteen years ago General Villa was forced to flee from Chihuahua City as a bandit upon killing an army officer for insulting his sister, and he has never been inside the city since that time, except once, when he slipped in and killed the police chief for threatening to kill him.

"Within ten days regular train service will be resumed on the Mexican Central railroad to Torreon," said Villa. "Our forces control the entire territory now from the border to Torreon and we are going to repair the railway as soon as possible."

In case this prediction is made good, Torreon will be in touch with the border at Juarez for the first time in many months. Torreon is 527 miles from Juarez; is one of the principal mining towns in northern Mexico, and is the feeding point for mines and smelters representing investments of millions of dollars. A food famine has threatened the inhabitants of the city for several weeks, as the rebels hold it and the presence of federal troops at Chihuahua prevented supplies being shipped in.

SITUATION IN THE CAPITAL

Financial Stress in Mexico City Growing Worse Every Day.

Mexico City, Dec. 3.—Private dispatches received here from Washington report that the United States government has adopted a new policy toward Mexico of a definite nature to which it will adhere. At the embassy here it was admitted that this is true, but no details were given out, as it is considered that information of that nature should be given out at the state department, if at all.

Admiral Sir Christopher Craddock of the British warship Suffolk called upon General Huerta in full uniform. He was accompanied by Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister. Both declined to discuss the nature of the conference with the president. After leaving the palace Admiral Craddock called on Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy at the American embassy. Both Mr. O'Shaughnessy and Admiral Craddock were guests at a banquet at the German legation last evening. The British admiral said he does not know when he will leave this city.

The oil companies having property in the district invested by the rebels have cancelled all contracts to supply oil to the National railroads, owing to the rebels' demands. This makes the situation more difficult than ever for the government of General Huerta, as traffic between Mexico City and Vera Cruz is menaced and the avenue of escape to the coast, should occasion arise, would be cut.

The financial situation here is getting worse every day. Prices of all commodities are rising rapidly. The cost of living is already extremely high. The press is publishing stories of a race war throughout the United States. The stories are designed to aid recruiting for the federal army, leading the credulous Mexican people to believe that the United States is so occupied in quelling a revolt at home that it cannot interfere with Mexico. The newspapers are fiercely assailing the United States every day for publishing reports of the progress of the revolt in the north, the truth of which is nevertheless admitted, even in government circles.

Resignation of French Cabinet. Paris, Dec. 3.—Premier Barthou placed the resignation of the cabinet in the hands of President Poincare last evening after the defeat of the government, by a vote of 290 to 265 on the proposal that the new rentes should be declared exempt from taxation.

MANY LIVES SAVED BY PROMPT ACTION

Plucky Work of Texas Telephone Operators.

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 3.—At Belton girl telephone operators saved a hundred lives by refusing to leave their switchboard until they had warned all families possible of the on-rushing flood in Nolan creek and the Brazos river, which swept eleven persons to death there. Farmers up and down the valley were awakened by the girls and told to flee for their lives.

Many of the planters at first declined to believe the operators, as a few hours before the river was normal. The girls pleaded with them and begged them to awaken others in their neighborhoods who had no telephones. The girls also awoke large numbers in the city and took neither rest nor food until their warnings had been sent broadcast. Many of the homes where warnings were telephoned were later swept away by the floods.

Sixty thousand dollars property damage was done in Belton and the large steel bridge across the creek collapsed. The rise was thirty feet, the biggest ever known in the history of the state. The interurban car line service between Fort Worth, Dallas and Cleburne was crippled by wash-outs and the gas supply of Dallas suddenly was cut out by a "blowout" necessitating shutting down of many factories. Scores of small bridges were swept away in the valleys of the Brazos, Trinity and Colorado rivers. Thousands are unable to get to their homes in Fort Worth because of water covering bridges. Four and a half inches of rain fell here in the last twenty-four hours, and a seven-inch rain is reported at Lampasas.

IMPEACHMENT MOVEMENT

Official Laxity Alleged Against Lake County Prosecutor.

Crownpoint, Ind., Dec. 3.—Impeachment proceedings have been filed in the Lake circuit court against J. A. Patterson, prosecuting attorney for Lake county. The affidavit supporting the nine articles is signed by four members of a grand jury which sat last May and which was given a special prosecutor upon request to investigate gambling by a Chicago syndicate at Cavanaugh. Toleration by the prosecutor of slot machines, gambling and illegal houses and a general laxity in his official duties are alleged in the articles. Patterson, in an interview, said that he had no fear of the outcome, as he could show that he had done the best he could under all conditions. His term of office expires a year from next January.

Suffragettes who held an outdoor meeting at Doncaster, England, were mobbed and several of them injured.

STAR WITNESS FOR STATE TALKS

Dr. C. O. Durham, Marion County Coroner, Testifies in Knabe Murder Trial Today.

DESCRIBES THE DEATH ROOM

State Attempts to Dispute Assertion Arm Wound Might Have Resulted in Suicide.

Shelbyville, Ind., December 3.—Dr. Charles O. Durham, one of the state's most important witnesses, testified today at the trial of Dr. W. G. Craig, charged in an indictment with the murder of Dr. Helene Knabe at Indianapolis.

Before Dr. Durham was called, John Nicholson, an Indianapolis photographer, took the stand. He told Eph Inman, for the state, that he took a photograph of Dr. Knabe about four years ago, which he identified when it was shown him.

The purpose of the picture was to get before the jury a likeness of the dead doctor, so that the jurors could see what she looked like—that she did not resemble the description of the dead woman as given by the defense, which said she was a masculine, or mannish woman. The defense tried to prevent the jury from seeing the photograph, but Judge Blair allowed the jurors to see it.

Dr. Durham is the coroner of Marion county, and after the Indianapolis detective department had declared the death of Dr. Knabe to be due to suicide, he continued his investigation over many weeks and returned a verdict of murder.

When Dr. Ernest C. Reyer, Dr. George J. Cook, Dr. Frank C. Wynn and Dr. Charles Ferguson were on the stand yesterday all testified that the time of the finding of the body a search was made for the knife with which Dr. Knabe was killed. This fact was brought out by Mr. Spaan, for the defense, and the purpose of it was to show that they all believed that Dr. Knabe had taken her own life, and they were searching for the instrument with which she did it.

Coroner Durham described the deathroom. During the description there was complete silence. On the bed, Dr. Durham said, was a body, from the head of which a sheet was turned back, and he saw revealed the features of Dr. Helene Knabe with a ghastly wound in her throat.

There was some blood, the doctor said, scattered about the floor, and on the body on top of the bedding. The head was thrown back and fastened under a small iron bar at the head of the bed. There was a cut on the posterior side of the left forearm. This was an incised wound a little more than an inch long, and an inch and three-quarters deep.

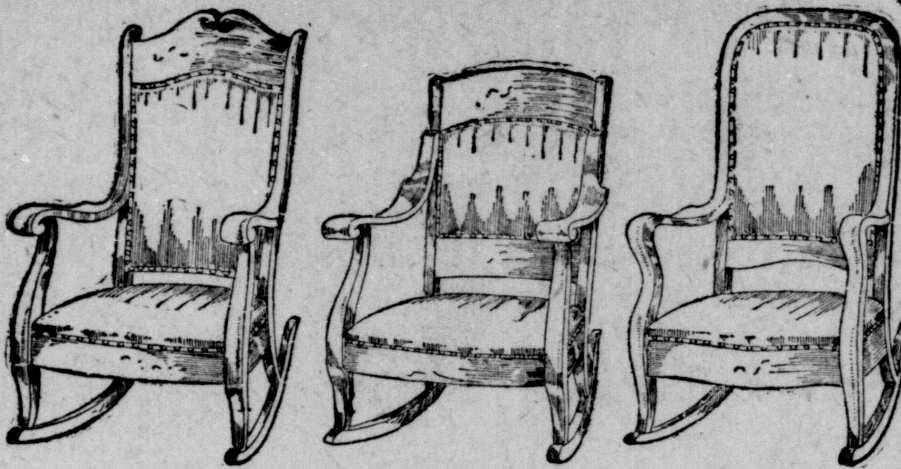

The state caused this description of the arm wound to be given dispute the assertion of the defense that it could have been made by the knife dropping from the hand of Dr. Knabe when she cut her own throat. From the nature of the arm wound the state contends that considerable force was used in making it.

Dr. Durham said there was two cuts in the throat, and the largest cut began on the right side of the neck and ended on the left side. This cut opened the interior jugular vein, but did not entirely sever it.

INSTALLS MACHINE.

A Power's Cameragraph No. 6. A motion picture machine was installed in the Gem theater yesterday and was in operation last night for the first time. The machine is designed to do away with the flicker that often so spoils some parts for the audience. It is claimed that 65 per cent of the motion picture machines are of the type mentioned. There is an exclusive patented device in the Power's, which by its means, the machine becomes automatic in its adjustment and maintenance of certain important parts. The mechanism prevents film breakage, keeps the film always in motion and does away with interrupted picture and a dark screen.

Democratic Efficiency.

Customs receipts of the government for November fell off four million, five hundred thousand dollars, compared with November, 1912, according to a monthly report just issued by the United States treasurer. November was the first full month in which the new tariff bill was effective. If the month was a fair test of the power of the bill to produce revenue, the annual return from this source will fall off fifty million dollars in a year, as compared to last year.

The economic Democratic administration is also spending money with a lavish hand, just as the Democratic state administration is doing, in spite of the fact that the revenue is decreasing at the rate of fifty million dollars a year. According to the treasury report the ordinary disbursements for November exceeded the ordinary receipts by $2,713,732, compared to an excess of receipts for the same month last year of $4,834,529. This is worse than it really appears. It simply means that it cost $7,548,261 more to run the government in November, 1913 under Democratic administration than it did in November, 1912 under Republican administration.

True, upholders of the national administration will answer that Congress has been in special session, which added to the expense burden. True, but the Democratic policy was to repeal the existing tariff law at once and pass a bill which would reduce the cost of living. It would be better, it seems, to have that fifty million dollars a year coming into the coffers and save over seven million dollars, than have a special session of Congress that increases the expense of the taxpayers to pass a law that is designed, it seems, not to reduce the cost of living, but to decrease the income of the government by fifty million dollars annually.

Furthermore the treasury report shows that for the fiscal year to date the disbursements have exceeded the receipts by $8,746,100, under Democratic administration, as compared to an excess of receipts of $1,817,337 for the fiscal year preceding under Republican administration.

Fifty million dollars is a lot of money—the loss because of the operations of the new tariff law; $10,563,437 is a lot of money—the difference between Democratic and Republican administration; it appears that Democratic efficiency is a costly experiment.

Many influences have been operating in recent years to drain our communities of its surplus in money which it should have for its proper development. Most of these influences have their origin in the fact that citizens not only have sent their surplus money away from home for investment but have sent away from home for goods and merchandise in stead of patronizing their home merchants.

BOY SHOT IN LEG IN STRIKE RIOT

Eugene Lutledge of Indianapolis Injured When Coal Wagon Was Stopped by Strikers.

SOME WILL RETURN TO WORK

Indianapolis, Ind., December 3.—Eugene Lutledge, 409 Minerva street, age eighteen, was shot in the leg today when a wagon belonging to the Minter Coal Company was stopped by a crowd at 40 South West street. The wagon was manned by five strike breakers, all of whom gave addresses outside the city. One of the five is said by witnesses to have fired the shot that struck the boy. All five were arrested by bicyclemen Sheridan and Long.

The coal wagon was surrounded by the crowd and some bricks were thrown at the five men on the wagon. The firing followed. Preliminary arrangements were being made today whereby a majority of the men on strike may be permitted to return to work. The strike committee was accepting the signatures of employers who desire to negotiate with the union of a proposition in which they agree to enter into a contract to pay the minimum wage scale of the union. J. Callahan, chairman of the committee, said 111 team owners had signed the proposition. He said in their employ were six hundred men.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN CALLED BY DEATH

James H. Ruddell Passed Away at Home in Brookside After Long Illness From Complications.

WAS MEMBER OF 37th INDIANA

James H. Ruddell, 71 years old, a well known resident of this county, died last night at his home in Brookside after a long illness from a complication of diseases. Mr. Ruddell was born August 29, 1849 in Decatur county, but had spent most of his life here. He was a member of the Thirty-seventh Indiana regiment, Company K in the Civil war and served thirty-eight months. Mr. Ruddell was wounded during the battle of Stone River, Dec. 13, 1863.

He is survived by his widow and five children, Mrs. Edward Pitman, Miss Jennie Ruddell, Chase Ruddell, Miss Leona Ruddell and Glen Ruddell. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Lewis Winship of this city. The funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at one-thirty o'clock at the late residence by the Rev. A. D. Batchelor of the Methodist church, and burial will take place in East Hill cemetery. The Grand Army of the Republic will have charge of the services.

PAPER BURNED OFF THE WALLS

Morristown Home is Threatened With Destruction by Fire of Unknown Origin Tuesday.

MICE MAY HAVE BEEN CAUSE

The home of Carey Orley, on North Street, Morristown, was threatened by fire early Tuesday and but for the timely arrival of neighbors, who fought bravely the house probably would have been destroyed, says the Shelbyville Democrat. The house is owned by Charles Tillison and he has one of the rooms reserved in which he keeps some of his furniture stored. The fire started in this room and the origin is unknown as the door was locked and Mr. Tillison had not been in the room for several days. The blaze is thought to have been started by mice.

Mr. and Mrs. Orley and daughter were awakened at about twelve-thirty o'clock, smoke having filled all the rooms of the house. An alarm was spread thru the near vicinity and the neighbors responded nobly. The door was broken in and by the use of buckets of water the blaze was extinguished. All the paper was burned off the walls and the closet in the room was badly damaged. The loss will reach almost a hundred dollars. The house was an eight-room frame structure.

Notice to Contractors.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned Board of Commissioners of the county of Rush and state of Indiana, will up until two o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, the 17th day of December, 1913,

SUFFRAGISTS HAVE A FLING AT PRESIDENT

Denounce Failure to Mention Them in Message.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Put out about President Wilson's failure to mention the development of the equal suffrage movement in the United States and the extension of votes to women in nearly one-fifth of the states of the Union in his annual address to congress, the National Woman's Suffrage association now in session in Washington last night passed by a unanimous vote and amid rousing cheers a resolution criticising the president and declaring that he had missed the opportunity of his life. The resolution was as follows:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that President Wilson failed to rise to the sublimest heights of democracy when he failed in his message to congress today to recommend the freedom of half the citizens of the United States and probably half the citizens of the civilized world."

The resolution followed an expression of opinion by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the national association, and presiding officer of the convention. The evening's program was interrupted to permit Dr. Shaw to express herself on the subject, which she did in a manner that was hotly applauded.

GARVER GIVES HIMSELF UP

Man Who Shot His Uncle Tells Why He Did It.

Shelbyville, Ind., Dec. 3.—Harry Garver, who shot and killed his uncle, Walter King, at the King home near London, has surrendered to the authorities here. He said he spent the night in a shock of fodder near his home and saw the searching parties hunting for him. He told Sheriff Perry he did not give himself up for fear the farmers would deal violently with him. Garver spoke freely of the shooting. He said he and his uncle had quarreled over some wood which they had split on shares.

URGES WOMEN TO AID IN WORK

Miss Vida Newsom, President of Indiana Federation of Clubs, Endorses Seal Sale.

WHITE PLAGUE TAKES 4,000

World at Awe at Titanic Disaster,
But Not Apparently Shocked
by Tuberculosis Growth.

The Indiana Federation of Clubs has endorsed the sale of the Red Cross Christmas Seals and urges the public to buy liberally. Miss Vida Newsom, of Columbus, president of the Federation has the following to say concerning the sale of the seals:

The Red Cross Christmas seal season is now at hand. The activities of the Indiana Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis which we so heartily endorse are largely supported through this annual sale of seals. Therefore, let us, the women of Indiana, do our part towards helping along this great cause in the interest of humanity.

The club women have always been actively connected with this movement and much of its success has been due to their interest and enthusiasm. The Indiana Federation of Clubs has increased in numbers and influence in the past year and we trust the efforts of this organization during the present season may be even more energetic in the selling of Red Cross Christmas seals than ever before.

The civilized world was held in breathless awe when fifteen hundred souls went down to death on the Titanic and yet the public is not shocked apparently, at the terrible fact that "the White Plague" each year slays in Indiana more than 4,000 men, women and children. Let us awake to the needs of our community and our state and unite our forces to help obliterate this dread, preventable and communicable disease, which at this moment, is confronting in a terrible form, no less than 30,000 Hoosier citizens.

One-third of the orphans in public institutions in this state are children whose parents, one or both, died of consumption. Tuberculosis kills more men, women and children every year than all other contagious diseases combined.

But there has been a remarkable growth of the antituberculosis movement in recent years, and on the whole, the outlook is encouraging. So we may consecrate our energies anew at this Christmas season in this great service of our fellow human beings. A line to the state headquarters of the anti-tuberculosis society, 203 Public Savings Bldg., Indianapolis, will point the way.

Let us join our interests in this humanitarian movement with those who are leading in the crusade to lessen the number of victims and to eradicate the evils of "The Great White Plague." In the closing words of the Tuberculosis Day prayer by Prof. Walter Rauschenbusch, "Since we are all jointly guilty of the conditions which breed this disease, may we stand by those who bear the burden of our common sin, and set the united power of our community against this power which slays the young and strong in the bloom of their life. May this death which creeps from man to man be a solemn reminder that we are all one family bound together in joy and sorrow, in life and death that we may cease from our selfish indifference and together seek Thy kingdom and Thy righteousness which will bring us health and life."

Two Views of the Defendant
in the Knabe Murder Trial

Photos by American Press Association.

Shelbyville, Ind., Dec. 3.—In the cross-examination of witnesses for the state in the trial of Dr. W. B. Craig for the murder of Dr. Helene Knabe here, the defense is attempting to bring out the suicide theory. In the opening statement to the jury in behalf of his client, Henry N. Spaan, leading counsel for the defense, said the defense expects to prove the wound which caused Dr. Knabe's death could have been self-inflicted.

SMOKING OUT SLAYER IN AN AIR-TIGHT MINE

Extraordinary Measures Taken Against Lopez.

Salt Lake City, Dec. 3.—The deadly fumes of gases and volumes of smoke, like a crawling snake, are creeping upon Raphael Lopez, murderer of three peace officers and three others, who, like a rat in a corner, is fighting for life in the upper workings of the Apex properties, which are being sealed at every entrance and exit so that not one breath of refreshing mountain breeze can reach him.

Sheriff Smith issued orders to allow no Mexican to assist in the sealing up of the mine entrances and exits. The entrances and exits are being made air tight in a last effort to suffocate the murderer to death. The men engaged in sealing up the mine are expert miners. Over 300 men employed in the low levels of the mine were called from the workings and allowed to go to their homes. The men were called out of the mine so that none would fall victims to the deadly fumes which slowly are creeping into the low levels.

Fraudulent Use of Mails Charged.
Indianapolis, Dec. 3.—Levi L. Johnson and Homer E. Johnson, Goshen (Ind.) grain dealers, who were indicted by the federal grand jury for alleged violations of the postal laws, came to Indianapolis and surrendered. They arranged for bond immediately. Federal officers say the Johnsons would buy and sell grain in such a manner that both the persons from whom they bought the grain and to whom they sold it were defrauded.

STRIKE MARKED BY BLOODSHED

One Killed and Four Wounded in Labor Riot.

SITUATION AT INDIANAPOLIS

The Teamsters' Strike Attended by Violence in Which Gun Fire is Becoming Common as the Conflict Between the Teamsters and Their Sympathizers and Merchants and Manufacturers Becomes Stronger.

Indianapolis, Dec. 3.—The killing of one and wounding of four, the teamsters appealing to other organizations for a sympathetic strike, their leaders asking for arbitration, and a squad of police armed with riot guns patrolling the streets under orders to shoot if order could not be otherwise maintained, are the principal features of the teamsters' strike.

In all parts of the city drivers have been taken from their wagons, horses cut loose from wagons, gasoline drawn from tanks of auto trucks and traffic rendered dangerous and in many places impossible. There has been no collection of garbage since Saturday and this is causing great inconvenience, especially as the weather is unseasonably warm.

The laundries have quadrupled their forces and are gathering their patrons' clothing with men on foot and placing it in bundles at designated places from which automobiles under protection of police take it to the laundries. Bakery goods are scarce and in many instances housewives who have not baked bread for years are now engaged in that duty as the only way in which to supply the table. The city authorities are handling the situation well, considering the wide area to be covered, and the police are going to whatever section they are sent without protest.

The most serious riot occurred on Indiana avenue, when an ice company, having provided four well armed men, attempted to make a delivery. A crowd gathered and hooted the men, but they delivered the ice and started away. The crowd followed and began to stone the men on the wagon. Two of them were struck, and as they rose all of them drew revolvers and began firing. Claude Lewis, twenty-one years of age, was killed, being shot through the head. John Ashley was shot in the leg, J. H. Mason in the abdomen, Archie Smith in the shoulder and A. E. Sedam in the neck. It is thought Mason will die. While the four men were still firing the police arrived and the crowd scattered. The ice wagon drivers were taken to the police station, where business men appeared as bondsmen.

The strikers have issued an appeal to other labor organizations for a sympathetic strike, but many of the teamsters have returned to their employers and have expressed a willingness to work under police protection. This weakening of the strikers has led to an attempt on the part of the leaders to bring about arbitration if a basis for it could be laid. It was intimated that the demand for recognition of the union would be waived.

Police powers have been issued to many non-union teamsters on recommendation from their employers. When they appeared with badges and clubs the strikers were dismayed. They criticized the authorities for thus turning labor against labor, but in many places the result was marked. Quite a number of men have been sent to the hospitals with broken heads and the jail is packed with persons sent in for disturbances on the street. In one case a woman who was here on a shopping trip was caught in the swirl of a riot in the retail section and emerged with a broken arm. She was sent to a hospital.

WILL ADVANCE THE CASE

Early Ruling Expected in Hamilton County Tax Inquiry Case.

Noblesville, Ind., Dec. 3.—Judge Vestal has overruled the motion for a new trial in the case of the state against Earl S. Baker, cashier in the Citizens State bank, who was fined $50 for failing to inform the grand jury concerning the amount of money one of the bank's depositors had on deposit March 1. The motion was preliminary to the appeal of the case to the supreme court. It is understood an effort will be made to advance the case on the docket of the supreme court to get a ruling as soon as possible.

The Hamilton county grand jury was taking up an investigation of the discrepancy between the amounts of deposits, as shown by bank statements, and the amount of cash assessed for taxation.

Detective Captain Badly Hurt.
Indianapolis, Dec. 3.—William A. Holtz, captain of detectives, who was injured when he was struck by an automobile, will recover. The injuries include severe bruises and contusions about the head and a broken leg. Harry Frazee, who was driving the automobile which struck Holtz, is charged with assault and battery with intent to kill.

THREE THINGS YOU WANT TO KNOW ABOUT YOUR BANK

"Is it a safe, conservatively managed institution? Will it give me financial support when I need it, and when I have demonstrated that I am worthy of it?" This Bank owes its success largely to the way it has met these requirements. It invites you to test its willingness and ability to do "team work" with you in developing your financial affairs.

Rheumatism and its Cause

Uric acid in the blood is the cause of this disease.

These small crystals deposit in the blood vessels and retard the circulation and cause irritation and acute pain.

The only sane remedy for this trouble is a uric acid solvent. Liniments and counter irritants are but temporary, if any, relief. This trouble can only be reached successfully by internal remedies.

An old English physician, Dr. John Hyde, discovered a remedy while in general practice of medicine that he used with phenomenal success for many years for Rheumatism and Kidney trouble.

He gave the prescription to F. E. Wolcott, the druggist, and he has sold hundreds of bottles of it, always on a guarantee, and but a very few ever were returned.

In the past 6 years he has cured a number of cases who were on crutches and had Lumbago until confined to the house.

It sells on a positive guarantee and pint bottles are only 75c.

"It's spotted," she said almost under her breath.

Inspector McGee looked also. "That's easy," said he. "They opened the window. It was raining, wasn't it? Well, the rain came in and stained it."

"I suppose so," said Rosalie. But she made a minute examination. Let us violate for a second the privacy of her mind. "Dear old dope!" it was saying, "he hasn't thought to look into the weather that night. He don't know it had cleared up and stopped raining for good when I came into the house; and I saw them open the windows myself."

"Well," she said aloud, "that's all for the bed. Now let's see the furniture an' his clothes an' everything."

It was half an hour before Rosalie finished her search of the room. She went over it inch by inch, her lips pursed, her hands making quick flutters of disgust over the dirt and disorder. She spoke little, and then as though to herself. Inspector McGee, finally, gave up following her swift movements, mental and physical, and rested himself in a Morris chair. His was a life of grim hard things; these surroundings, depressing even to Rosalie, were to him part of the day's work. And so he fell to watching not the search for evidence but the figure of Rosalie Le Grange. There was something pleasing, and more than pleasing, about this woman here. He remembered how she had appeared to him ten years ago, when she began flashing in and out of his life. He had been sitting in another house of murder, and he had seen her cross the street. He had marked her then as "a peach"—a little too plump for his idea of beauty, but pretty nevertheless. She had brown hair then; and those big gray eyes. The eyes remained as they were, but there was a foam of white across her hair. The face had fallen into a delicate ridge here and there, though massage had taken care of the wrinkles, which showed not as yet. Her figure had broadened a little—yet she still bore it wonderfully. The skin of her long plump hands had begun to gather about the knuckles. And still—she appealed to him as she had never appealed in those first days. He had no great amount of imagination; but what he had soared and took flight. Suppose—then—when they were both young—

The flight stopped there; the bird of imagination fluttered to earth, killed by an arrow of memory. This was—had always been—a medium, a professional faker. In their early acquaintance she had duped even him. She was next door to a crook; and he dwelt so close to crooks as to have his tolerations, but also his prejudices. No, she wasn't the kind for a man. But it was a pity. The broad, sturdy police bosom of Martin McGee heaved with a sigh.

The sigh did not escape Rosalie Le Grange; little in her surroundings ever escaped her. She appeared to come out of her thoughtful mood, and her dimples flashed.

"Getting tired?" she asked.

"No," he said. And then suddenly:

"Rose, why did you ever start it?"

"Being a medium, you mean?"

"Yes. The word was out of his lips before wonder entered his mind.

"Now, how did you get that—what I was thinking of? You make me wonder if there ain't something in your mediumship."

"Well," said Rosalie. "When you're left an orphan at twelve—there ain't much choice. Professor Vango adopted me—my mother was in his circle. Old fake! But he had mediumship, too; an' he thought, an' I thought, he brought somethin' out of me. Anyhow, I saw things. So I became a medium. Like you became a cop—because it happened that way. Sometimes," added Rosalie, drawing all sting from her words by a flash of her dimples, "I think you're awful stupid, Martin McGee, an' sometimes I think you're a wonder. It's generally according to whether or no you agree with me. As you mostly do, I generally call you a wonder. An' you've got get-there besides. Slow, but you do get there."

This bit of conversation fulfilled Rosalie's purpose. It turned the subject from herself to Inspector McGee's self; and she knew from a life of experience that no man lives who can resist that lure.

"How do you feel about me today?" he asked with heavy male coquetry.

"I haven't made up my mind today," she said, "but it's veerin' toward the stupid." She crossed the room and fumbled with the catch of the south window. He rose heavily to help her.

"No, thank you!" she said. "No, thank you. I want to look over this fire escape. I'm that old I can't go up modest-like. It's enough to have the stenographers 'rubberin' from these windows, without you."

However, she managed with surpassing lightness the step from the window to the iron stairway, with astonishing grace the ascent. She threaded it to its top, viewing it all in a general way. Then she stopped, making a picture of herself as she balanced on the landing, and pulled out a wire hairpin. This universal implement of the sex she twisted to suit her purpose, and began a slow descent, picking at the interstices of the iron.

So she worked downward nearly one flight before she came to a cake of dirt in a corner of the iron steps. She brushed it away and discovered a little irregularity in the metal. She picked at this with her twisted hairpin.

It proved to be a loop of steel, somewhat spotted, but still bright. She hooked the pin into the loop, and pulled. Something gave way. Out of a very small hollow in the iron step, which seemed like a bubble left in the process of casting, came a little hard ball. She rubbed it with her hands, and polished it with her handkerchief.

It was a red shoe button.

Rosalie fingered it, and glanced upward, musing. Above, the iron stairway ran straight to the windows of the lumber room. And that was the only window from which it could have fallen in such fashion as to strike the fire escape. She knew from Mrs. Moore that this room had been used for storage during all of the last year. If a previous tenant dropped it, the lacquer would be gone or tarnished by now. The other windows on the fourth floor were cut off from view of the fire escape by an irregularity of the wall. From those windows, one could scarcely have thrown the button and hit that spot on the fire escape—"let alone droppin' it," thought Rosalie.

Rosalie wrapped the button in her handkerchief and continued her search. Nothing heavier than straws and scraps of paper.

"Well, you never can tell," she said to herself as she straightened up on the landing before Captain Hanska's window; "let's see—who in my house ever wears—"

She stopped all motion here; and since there was no need for concealment, her face showed the shock which she felt. Her eyes widened; her jaw dropped.

"Um-hum!" she buzzed with the tone of one who gathers the straws of suspicion into a sheaf of fact.

"Um-hum!"

And just then the voice of Inspector McGee boomed from within.

"Pretty near through?" he asked.

"Much as I want," replied Rosalie, voice and face falling at once into indifference. "Is there a place to wash in this house? Water ain't turned off yet? All right."

When, ten minutes later, she returned from the lavatory, marvelously freshened in appearance, the inspector awaited her in the lower hall.

"I may be wanting to come again," she said. "Will you let the cops know?"

"Well, how do I stack today?" asked Martin McGee, "smart or stupid?"

"Kind of between," jabbed Rosalie, "but edg'n' toward stupid still." She smiled again over her shoulder; a dimple played and then another; a lock of hair fell from its fastening over her cheek.

A FRIEND TO THE WORKING MAN

Five years ago I was so troubled with kidney trouble and inflammation of the bladder that I had to cease working my farm. Life looked dark to me until I heard of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root through a cured friend. I tried a bottle and began to feel better at once. After using five or six bottles I felt fine and have continued to work as I had before my affliction.

I want to state that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is a kidney medicine that will cure and I owe my good work during the past five or six years to it.

Yours very truly,

C. W. MORRIS, Prescott, Ark.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 27th day of March, 1912.

And suddenly something happened; something which Martin McGee, blushing over it later in silence and secrecy, could not himself account for. With the motion of a dancing bear, so awkward was it and yet so quick, he had caught her in his arms and kissed her heavily on the face.

Rosalie did not seem to struggle; yet somehow, without haste, without disarranging herself in one little item, she was free of him. The surge in Martin McGee receded as rapidly as it had risen. He stood blank, his color thickening.

"Martin McGee," said Rosalie Le Grange, "you jest cut that out!"

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills For Rushville kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation.

Proof lies in the testimony of Rushville people.

G. Priest, 223 West Third street, Rushville, Ind., says: "For several years I had kidney trouble, which came on by spells. The complaint started with a dull pain just over my kidneys, then I became weak and dizzy. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally brought to my attention and were so highly recommended that I got a supply at Johnson & Co.'s Drug Store. They proved to be the best medicine I had ever tried and in a short time, my kidneys were normal. You can still publish what I said about Doan's Kidney Pills in my former endorsement."

WOULD LEAVE IT TO THE PEOPLE

Nominations for Presidency By Direct Primary.

WILSON'S LATEST SUGGESTION

Leaders in Congress Not Only Applaud President's Recommendation For a Change in Plan of Nominating Candidates For the Presidency, but Are Taking Steps to Provide the Machinery For Such a Procedure.

Washington, Dec. 3.—In delivering his annual address before congress President Wilson for the fourth time appeared personally and ceremoniously before the two houses of the legislative branch, and the event was fully as interesting as the three previous occasions.

Interest in the president's message centered chiefly in anticipation of what he would say on the Mexican problem and on the question of anti-trust legislation. In both instances the president's remarks were reassuring. He denounced Huerta as a dictator and usurper whose power is crumbling day by day, but he predicted that this government would not be obliged to alter its present policy of "watchful waiting."

In regard to anti-trust legislation the president made it clear that he would not advocate any change in the Sherman anti-trust law, but would favor merely supplementary legislation of such a character as to reduce the "area of doubt" that has harassed business men. He promised a special message later on the trust question.

One other feature of the president's address will immediately attract nationwide attention. The president recommends the enactment of legislation doing away with nominating conventions for the presidency and permitting the selection of the nominees by direct primaries. He would have the party platforms drawn by conventions composed of nominees for congress and for the senate, senators, members of national committees and the candidates for the presidency. He also recommends legislation for a system of rural credits, the construction of a railroad by the federal government in Alaska, and prompt action on the currency bill.

Received a Cordial Greeting.

The president received a cordial greeting from congress. The applause was spontaneous and in marked contrast to the stiffness and formality of the scenes that marked his appearance on previous occasions. It indicated that congress was becoming accustomed to this method of receiving the presidential "message" and also that Mr. Wilson has gained in popularity with the legislative branch. The president was pleased over the demonstration and showed it.

The president's reference to changing the methods of nominating candidates for chief executive drew the greatest demonstration and the rebel yell several times sounded above the handclapping. Steps already have been taken by the Democratic leaders to carry out this recommendation made by the president. Bills are now in course of preparation and will be introduced in the house and the senate within a few days.

The appearance of the presidential primary idea in the president's address was a surprise to leaders of all parties in Washington and aroused more interest and comment than any other feature of the annual utterance. This subject will immediately assume an important place in the legislative program for the session just begun, and already it is apparent that the house will pass a presidential primary law such as the president desires at this session.

COLLECTED AT THE SOURCE

Congressmen to Have Their Pay Docked For Income Tax.

Washington, Dec. 3.—It's pretty tough to be a member of congress these days. It was hard enough when it became known recently that there would be no mileage appropriations this session and that the exigencies of the public welfare required congress to cut out the Christmas recess. The crowning indignity, though, was thrust upon members when it was learned that the disbursing officers of congress hold that under the income tax law the tax to be paid by statesmen would be collected "at the source." In other words it will be deducted from members' compensation before they are paid off.

But He Had to Get Out of Range of Fortress Shells.

Belgrade, Dec. 3.—When Jules Verne, the French aviator, who is making a flight from Paris to the Orient, was passing over the Varadine fortress at a height of 4,000 feet the gunners of the big fort on the bank of the Danube fired several shells at him. The tremendous concussion caused such aerial disturbance that the aeroplane almost was upset. Verne ascended to a height of 9,000 feet and continued his flight.

AFTER SICKNESS

Mrs. Gardner Tells How to Restore One's Strength.

So many people are asking how to recover their strength after severe sickness that we are publishing this information for their benefit.

After grippe, pleurisy, pneumonia or any illness what you need is new strength and better blood.

The most certain way to get this is by taking Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation.

Mrs. M. T. Gardner, Chicago, Ill., says: "After a very serious operation I was a total invalid for nearly a year and a convalescent for months thereafter, I gave the remedies of a number of eminent specialists a thorough trial, but without deriving the slightest benefit. Vinol was recommended. Without the least faith in the merits of the medicine, I took it faithfully, and it seemed to bring back the old color to my cheeks and the elasticity to my step which I had despaired of ever recovering. I can say, conscientiously, that for nervous, run-down people, Vinol is an excellent remedy."

Try a bottle of Vinol. Your money will be returned if it does not restore your vitality and strength. F. B. Johnson & Co., Druggists, Rushville, Ind.

P. S. If you have Eczema try our Saxo Salve. We guarantee it.

Obituary.

Jacob Eldo Hoekersmith the fourth child of Jefferson and Sarah Hoekersmith was born June 9, 1869 and departed this life Nov. 25, 1913, at the age of 44 years, 5 months and 16 days.

He was united in matrimony to Ida McFall, January 24, 1892. To this union were born four children, three girls and one boy, Inez, Hazel, Elma and Raymond.

He leaves a widow, four children, a father, five brothers and four sisters, and a host of other relatives, and friends to mourn his loss.

He united with the M. E. church at Westport Jan 28, 1813.

He was a loving companion and father and will be missed by all who knew him.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled;

God in his wisdom has recalled,
The one his love had given
And though his body slumbers here,
His soul is safe in Heaven.

We Buy Buggies at Jobbers' Prices and are the only dealers in Rush county that do. And we are not afraid of being successfully contradicted in this statement. There are two advantages to be gained by buying vehicles from builders of vehicles for the jobbing trade only. One of them is that you can buy them at a price that means a saving to your customer of at least 10 to 15 Dollars on a job, and another thing is you can get buggies built like you want them and like your customers want. The small dealer has to take what the small manufacturer builds for him. We have them built to suit public demand and get what the public wants. Now for instance there has been a demand for a Storm Buggy with more room and the average dealer has been unable to get it. We have the only Storm Buggy with sufficient room and we guarantee it to be three inches wider than any other Storm Buggy on the market. We have every style you want and we want you to see what we have and you will be surprised at the difference between our vehicles and the ones you have seen both in price and style and we guarantee the quality to be first class. Place your vehicle business with us and it will be taken care of to your satisfaction.

WEATHER FOR MONTH UNUSUAL

Average Temperance During November 49.7 Degrees, Considerably Higher Than Normal.

PRECIPITATION WAS HEAVY

Thirteen Entirely Cloudy Days Were Recorded and Rain Fell on Sixteen.

November will be recorded as a most unusual month from the climatic standpoint, the average temperature being considerable higher than the mean temperature for the ten-year period. While there were killing frosts on several nights, many of the days were warm and summer heat was recorded on a few. There was an exceptionally heavy rainfall for November, 4.07 inches being recorded. For the corresponding month last year the rainfall was but .39 of an inch. There was very little snow the last month while November usually has two or three good snow storms with considerable sleet and winter weather.

The mean maximum temperature for the last month was 59.9 degrees as compared with 55.8 degrees last year. The average minimum temperature during the past thirty days was 39.5 degrees while the mean minimum temperature for November, 1912, was 32.6 degrees. The average temperature of the month was 49.7, over four degrees higher than in November, 1912.

On two days last month, 20th and 22d, the mercury rose to the 78 degree point and on the 11th fell to 15 degrees, showing the very wide range of 63 degrees. The range in November, 1912 was 57 degrees, which was greater than the average. The greatest daily range in temperature last month was 43 degrees on the 6th and the least daily range was 3 degrees on the 27th. In November, 1912, the greatest daily range was 35 degrees on the 3d and the least was 4 degrees on the 1st.

During the last month there were but 8 entirely clear days, 9 were partly cloudy and on 13 the sun did not shine. On ten nights killing frosts were reported and traces of snow were recorded on three days. The large number of entirely cloudy days is unusual as seen from the records of November, 1912, which show that there were but 4 cloudy days during that month. Rain was recorded on sixteen days last month.

The temperature during the month was much higher than usual and at times would vary but few degrees from day to day. It is predicted that the months of December and January will bring some winter weather of the blustering kind and that the weather man will make up for lost time before the spring sun appears next April.

he said, "and I have always found that Rush county farmers stand above all others when there are any comparisons. The honesty of the farmers of Rush county was never questioned. Farmers make up our juries largely and I know that no lawyer here ever considered the probability of having a dishonest farmer on a jury."

Mr. Sparks commended the farmers on the high plane of their lives and pointed out how advanced they were. He commented on the fact that the city people have no advantages over the farmer any more, and if there are any advantages either way, they are with the farmer.

"Ben asked me to say something of his fertilizer, but, Ben I can't do that," concluded Mr. Sparks, and the remark was greeted with laughter. "I will agree to one thing, Ben. I will not say anything about it at all, if I can not say anything good."

The speeches developed into a bantering match, with Mr. Norris having to take all of the good-natured things said about him. When this part of the program began, John Power could not keep out.

"I have been buying fertilizer of Ben Norris for a long time," he said, "and he has treated me square. He always told me that if it did not do what he said it would, to bring it back."

Mr. Powers related how he used some fertilizer in a field on his farm. He placed fertilizer all over one field, with the exception of the center eight rows. The man on the farm objected and said that nothing could be accomplished by using fertilizer. Mr. Power said he noticed the corn which was fertilized taseled out quicker and was taller. The farm laborer admitted this, but the only difference, he said, was that the corn which was fertilized had larger ears and the grains on them were firmer.

"And that was the only difference he saw," concluded Mr. Powers.

Mr. Brown, the judge, acknowledged that he didn't know all about corn yet. He said it was a very interesting study and if the grower does not take interest in it, he will not succeed. Mr. Brown said it was one thing to raise corn and another thing to select it, and that, one was as important as the other. He said he looked at a basket of corn in order to select samples for a show until he had grown color blind. He declared that the longer one looked, the better chance he had to get the best specimen.

He picked up an ear from a basket in the bank which was not in the show. He scored it at 69½ and said that it took a good ear to score 75. He said it took a good sample to score from 75 to 78. In scoring Mr. Brown pointed all of the defects.

He showed that the ear was defective in shape because it began tapering to soon, but that it was perfect in length, ten inches. He pointed out that the cob was not just the right color red and that there were some white spots in the grain. He said the color was seldom ever perfect. He scored the ear tip and butt at fifty points because there were so many round kernels which did not keep their indentation at the top and there were so many irregular kernels at the butt. He said that show corn was most generally defective at the tip and butt.

He scored the kernel 6½ on shape although the depth was good. He scored indentation 3½. He pointed out that the kernels should be square across the crown. The uniformity of the kernels on the cob he scored 7, which was above the average. Mr. Brown scored seed condition 13. The number of points for perfection in this is 15. The proportion of grain to the cob was good, he said, and that the ear would shell out good.
